

Dear Rolling Pin Cruise Reader,

I was happy to see the warm reception that greeted the premier edition of Rolling Pin Cruise.

Rolling Pin Cruise serves a definite need in today's growing and ever-changing hospitality and cruise industries. Whatever facet of the industry you are involved with, it is vital to have accurate, comprehensive, and up-to-date information on issues of importance in the industry.

Rolling Pin Cruise's mission to cover the cruise industry and its surroundings better than any publication is welcomed. The more tools that members of the industry have to be better connected to people and ships are invaluable.

As Senior Vice President of Vessel Operations for Silversea Cruises, I relish the opportunity to gain fresh knowledge about my chosen industry wherever possible. The information that I garner from reading Rolling Pin Cruise will give me additional insight and resources to continue to make Silversea Cruises the leader in ultraluxury cruising.

I'm confident future issues of Rolling Pin Cruise will be of tremendous interest to hoteliers, food and beverage managers, executive chefs, suppliers, travel agents, cruise personnel, and airline professionals across the travel industry.

I wish Rolling Pin Cruise continued success and look forward to many informative and educational issues to come.

Sincerely,
